

My ex-partner was part of the gang and they killed him and then they threatened me that if I didn't sell myself they would kill me. If I left the country they would kill me. They are called Black Shadow or call themselves El Clan de Planta. I came alone, two months pregnant, and with my son. I had to jump off the train, pregnant, so immigration wouldn't catch us. We would get on the train, immigration would stop it, and we would get off the train and run to the forest and hide. They caught my son in Guatemala. I had to continue because if I went back they would kill me. So I let him go, immigration took him, and he left. I got to Mexico and after my baby girl was born, I started getting messages from my sister that the gang wanted to kill my son. So, I had to take the risk to go back down to Honduras to bring him back here with me. We ran out of money all the way until we arrived back here. He is downstairs now, playing. Recently we've been getting messages that the gang is determined to find my son. That's what worries me the most, that they will find him. I would like to go to Canada, but I would go to any place that is safe for the three of us. Nothing is too far or too hard to get to. Nothing is too difficult. Only God is with us. Anyone would do anything for their children.
